"Violet black colour. Tasty aromas and flavours of chocolate mint, eucalyptus, and blackberry jam with a satiny, tangy, medium-full body and a graceful, amusing, medium-length finish with notes of nougat, peppery spice, and beet with silky tannins. A rich savoury Shiraz that will be great with food."

90 points Huon Hooke, December 2014

"Deep, dark red colour with a purple tint; the bouquet blackberry-like and ultra-ripe. It's very full-bodied and gutsy, with ample tannin and ripe flavour, the palate bright and robust with plenty of flavour and grip. A solid wine, not especially elegant, but full of flavour and tannin and also cellarworthy. Drink 2017 to 2033."

90 points James Halliday's Wine Companion, January 2015

"Deeply coloured; essence of McLaren Vale Shiraz, flush with blackberry, plum, and a generous coating of dark chocolate; no frills, but no need for them. Supports Cancer Research (very generously)."
